BODIES TAKEN FROM VOLCANO IN HAWAII

Jap Makes Perilous Descent for Victims of Murder, Suicide

By The Associated Press

HILO Hawaii June 13—Man descended into the fuming crater of Halemaumau— home of everlasting fire —and reclaimed from Pele dreaded Hawaiian fire goddess the bodies of a despairing lover who killed his sweetheart before leaping into the volcano clasping her body

A daring Japanese contractor Pikau Kunishi gambled with death yesterday as he was lowered into the firepit of Kilauea Volcano returning eight hours later with the bodies of Sylvester Nunes 20 and Margaret Enos 17

The descent was made in a tiny cage suspended perilously from a cable stretched across the pit into which Kunishi would have plunged to a boiling death in the lava 1,200 feet below had the cable broken.

Shortly after he reached the ledge 600 feet below the brink at which the bodies lay, he signalled with a white flag that his trip would be successful. He returned with the bodies strapped to his back and claimed the $1,000 for which he undertook to do the job.

Nunes disappeared and also the girl Enos it became also refused to marry him and then leaped into the smoking lava shortly before Kunishi's return. A native policeman who witnessed the suicide of the two lovers identified the bodies.

British Press Charges Violet Sharpe Was Harried to Death.

By The Associated Press

ALPINE N J June 13—The case of Violet Sharpe English waitress wore an international aspect today as police denied accusations that they harried her to death

The charge voiced indignantly in the English press was followed by news that Labor members of parliament were expected to ask the British government today to make representations to the United States about the girl She took poison in the home of Mrs Dwight W Morrow last Friday as police arrived to question her anew about her movements the night Charles A Lindbergh Jr was kidnaped

After watching the theory they built up against Miss Sharpe and Ernest Brinkert cab driver from White Plains N Y go to pieces police busied themselves with final checkups

"There was never undue pressure brought to bear during her questioning by police Col H Norman Schwarzkopf head of the state police said On each of the four occasions members of the Morrow or Lindbergh households were present

In view of Ernest Miller's statement and Brinkert's alibi do you still believe Violet Sharpe had guilty knowledge of the crime? Will you publicly exonerate her? Schwarzkopf was asked

This is a matter of opinion he answered

Miller telling a story that checked said he Miss Catherine Minners and Elmer Johnson went to a dance and restaurant with Violet on the kidnaping night His story which shattered the police theory that Brinkert was the Ernie with whom Violet went out was corroborated by Miss Minners

Only one thing remains to be cleared up so far as Violet Sharpe is concerned Police said they found in her room a number of business cards of a taxi concern Brinkert used to operate He has denied knowing her

Illinois Delegation To Consider Offering Dawes in Opposition.

WANT YOUNGER NOMINEE

Party Heads Say Opponents Unorganized, Dawes Attitude Not Known.

BY CECIL B DICKSON

Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO June 13—In the first definite move to seek another name in the second position of the Republican ticket the Illinois delegation tonight will consider whether to place Charles G Dawes in nomination against Curtis

Whether the retiring president of the reconstruction corporation and former ambassador to England would again be willing to run for the vice presidency is a point of uncertainty Dawes is in Washington and his attitude toward the vice presidency is not know here

Frank L Smith of Dwight Ill who is expected to replace Roy O West as national committeeman expressed doubt today that Dawes would permit his name to go on the ticket

Senator Bingham of Connecticut today joined Secretary Mills in his support of Curtis Bingham said he felt the Kansas veteran should be on the national ticket

Representative Snell of New York who will be permanent chairman of the convention said there seems to be much opposition to Curtis because of his age but the opposition is unorganized

It is difficult to tell what might happen Snell said Some delegates claim that a younger man should be on the ticket with President Hoover particularly during these times of stress But so far Curtis appears to have the organized support

Senator Fess of Ohio chairman of the national committee said that he knew of no movement in the Ohio delegation to oppose Curtis for the nomination

FIRE DESTROYS HOME OF WORKING MINER

House Burned After Auto Is Bombed as Threat from Strikers.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O June 13— Fire believed of incendiary origin destroyed the home of a working miner at Carbon Hill Hocking county early today The family escaped Meanwhile two mines in the eastern Ohio fields reopened with a cordon of striking bituminous coal miners picketing their ripples

The home of Henry Hutchinson at Carbon Hill burned down early today a few hours after Hutchinson reported he thought he heard some one around to structure The miner his wife and three children escaped in their night clothing

Hutchinson was threatened if he continued work at Lick Run mine of the Manhattan Coal Co officials reported and last week his automobile was dynamited in his garage

In the eastern Ohio coal field the Ohio and Pennsylvania Coal company's deep shaft mine at Unionvale Harrison county reopened with 25 outside men working and Powhatan Mining Co at Powhatan Belmont county resumed operations with 30 men on the job

Picket lines surrounded both diggings

Vets Win First Move in Cash Bonus Battle

House Votes To Consider Measure as Ex-Service Men Crowd Galleries; 20,000 Now in Capital Waiting Action of Congress.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 13 The house today voted to call up the $2,400,000,000 cash bonus payment legislation for formal consideration

This action represents a step toward victory for the 20,000 war veterans who have poured into Washington to demand immediate payment of the 1945 certificates

While the vote was being taken and long before the house galleries were packed with former service men who watched tensely all proceedings Outside long lines of veterans stood hoping to gain admittance

If the house approves the bonus payment on the final vote the legislation still must run the gauntlet of the senate and the White House What action the senate will take is problematical but President Hoover has promised a veto

Action today came on a motion to bring the resolution by Representative Patman Democrat of Texas up for consideration The vote was obtained through a petition signed by 145 house members

Leaders Present Display

The atmosphere of the house was tense as it met for the showdown Approval of the $2,000,000,000 outlay was a foregone conclusion Leaders of the rapidly growing army of bonus seekers kept their men from staging any demonstration at the capitol urging them to stay away and leave representation in the galleries to a few selected men The rest remained in their rain sodden field quarters

The question the house faced at the outset was on forcing from the rules committee a resolution to order up for consideration the bonus bill itself The vote on this bill was not expected before tomorrow at the earliest

Test of Strength

On the first vote however depended the strength of the bonus advocates and the final outcome

DURBIN OPENS LEGAL BATTLE

Kenton Man's Attorneys File Motion To Quash Two Indictments

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS O June 13 — Attorneys for W W Durbin of Kenton former state Democratic committee chairman opened what promises to be a hard legal battle here this morning by filing a motion to quash two indictments charging the political leader with mailing unsigned election literature and attempted blackmail and bribery of Prosecutor J D Sears

No loopholes will be overlooked by attorneys in their efforts to clear the Kenton man of the charges it was indicated this morning The motion filed today said the indictments allege an offense not punishable under the laws of the state of Ohio

Judge C U Ahl will hear the motion in common pleas court Saturday

Durbin was scheduled to make his plea to lay to the indictment returned 10 days ago by a Crawford county grand jury He will not be compelled to plead however until after Judge Ahl rules on the motion

The court also was asked to throw out charges against Carl Mulcahy state prohibition agent of Lima Mulcahy charged by Prosecutor J D Sears with being a Durbin aid was indicted on the attempted bribery and blackmail charge

Charges against Durbin and Mulcahy grew out of the recent Eighth district Democratic congressional primary campaign Durbin was charged with circulating unsigned literature attacking two of the candidates and both with attempting to prevent the case from being investigated by the grand jury by approaching Prosecutor Sears

Attorneys Fred W Warner and William P Moloney of Marion represented the two men

RESUBMISSION PLANK IN VIEW

New York, New Jersey Delegations Demand Outright Repeal Plank

DRYS ARE ALSO BUSY

Consider Move To Prevent Clash on Floor Over Prohibition.

BY RAMON PRICE

Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO June 13—Plainly disturbed by the roaring chorus set by the Big wet states the cohorts of prohibition expect to present to the convention considered today for the first time a tentative plank proposing that an affirmative attitude for the Eighteenth amendment be presented to the voters

An tentatively discussed the new proposal wasn't declare for resubmission of a new amendment giving the states a limited right of decision Those declining to buy would have a federal guarantee of protection against wet neighbors The saloon would be outlawed

No one pretended to predict whether the plan would receive in the end the acquiescence of the Hoover forces in the convention which begins at Chicago stadium tomorrow The whole situation remained as menacing and almost as unsettled as ever

Hotes Demand Action

Heretofore the inner circle has stopped with discussion of a simple declaration that the whole question ought to be resubmitted for the electorate to take what ever action it desired

Today as New York New Jersey Illinois Massachusetts Indiana and others swelled the demand for more affirmative action the leaders began debate whether it might not be better to yield a little rather than face the hazard of a floor fight for submission or flat repeal

The impetus of New Yorks declaration for submission of a straight repealer was carried forward as the New Jersey delegation approached with a proposal just about as wet and trains from everywhere poured into the city the first real convention crowds of 1932 But the drys were busy hobnobbing old friends from the prohibition states and while they lost hope for an out and out no change pronouncement they seemed confident that plain repeal would likewise fail

Leaders at Work

Between the two cliques a coalesce and peripicing group of party captains labored in the Congress hotel with many a telephone call to Washington to find that long elusive formula which would give the greatest satisfaction to the greatest number

Haggard and plainly discouraged

Two States Call for Repeal Planks

BY FRANK M STEPHENSON

Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, June 13—Firm demands from New York and Connecticut for prohibition repeal planks stirred Republican platform builders to new efforts today for a declaration adaptable to the unrepeal and undiluted sentiment of tomorrow's convention.

A resubmission plank leaving the way open for ratification, revision or repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment was the end sought in the renewed efforts of administration leaders to adopt the conflict now seeming to go to the floor for settlement.

New York's 90 delegates without a dissenting voice put Secretary Mills, of President Hoover's official family, on the resolutions committee at its caucus last night. But before the imposing band could leave the room with his formal qualifications, the delegation quickly adopted the resolution for repeal unconditionally.

Immediate, Senator Bingham of Connecticut, member of the [illegible] committee, rushed to [illegible] Mills' committee, urged it [illegible] and interviewed [illegible] would like a light [illegible] repeal to go [illegible] the other [illegible] would [illegible] a decently repeal it [illegible] minded.

WHEAT SITUATION IN EUROPE WATCHED

Italy's Ban on Foreign Product Effective Soon, Ohio Observer Reports

By The Associated Press

CO[LUMBUS], O., June 13.—The recent Italian ban on [illegible] together with other [illegible] wheat [illegible] of wheat [illegible] to be [illegible] of the Ohio [illegible] department. [illegible] next [illegible] be required to [illegible] per cent of domestic wheat in mixing their flour. [illegible] up to May 20 had reported [illegible] million more acres of wheat [illegible] the last year [illegible]

Wheat prospects appear good in Spain and Denmark and normal in [illegible]. Spring grains are reported suffering in Germany because of lack of rain, and while the wheat crop [illegible] the Danube has improved a substantial decrease from last year's crop was expected, he continued.

[illegible] asserted the United States government reported a steady increase in the export of wheat during the months of February, March and April. Part of that increase may have been due to the sale of federal farm board surplus wheat sold abroad. This increase in wheat exports caused exports of American agricultural products to go higher during April 193[illegible] than any of the preceding months and also increased an [illegible] over that month over the same months in 1931 and 1930. Other United States agricultural products which showed increased exports during April were tobacco, hams and bacon, and while dairy products and eggs showed an increase, the gain on the export was less than the February figure.

OHIO SOIL EROSION STATION LOCATED

Farm Land Project To Start Operating Soon Near Zanesville

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., June 13.—A soil erosion station made possible by federal and state appropriations will begin operation near here this summer.

Experimental work at the station probably will be under the direction of S. W. Phillips, now superintendent of the soil erosion and moisture conservation station at Guthrie, Okla.

The station will be used to demonstrate how soil erosion may be controlled through the harnessing of the water run off from farms, also how floods may be controlled at the start and how water supply may be harnessed. Farmers, growers and land owners from the Appalachian region including Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and portions of several other states have been invited to visit the station and study the system to be demonstrated.

The station was located in Muskingum county through the efforts of Congressman C. Ellis Moore and George H. Maxwell, nationally known conservation expert. Several months ago a federal appropriation of $3[illegible],000 was made for the station and the Ohio state board of control later set aside $10,000 for the purpose. After installation the station will operate at an annual cost of about $[illegible],000.

Engineers already are on the scene working out details of the station. H. H. Bennett, who is in charge of the erosion [illegible] in commenting on the possibilities of the project said United States lands are being destroyed twice as rapidly as land in China, which has suffered greatly from destructive floods.

CHILDREN PRESENT BUCYRUS PROGRAMS

BUCYRUS, June 13.—Six Bucyrus churches observed the annual children's day Sunday.

"Gates of Love," a pageant, was presented by the children of Good Hope Lutheran church following the Sunday school service.

The primary department presented the morning service and the junior and intermediate departments the evening service at First Evangelical church.

"Of Such Is the Kingdom," a children's day pageant, was presented at St. Paul's Lutheran church Sunday morning by the primary, junior and intermediate departments.

Miscellaneous programs comprised the exercises at First Baptist and First Methodist Episcopal churches.

First United Brethren church presented the pageant "Under the Open Sky," by Mrs. J. L. Clow, Sunday evening. Miss Beulah Wilhelm was accompanist.

To Widen Highway.

BUCYRUS, June 1[illegible].—Work will begin soon on the widening of over two miles of highway on the Bucyrus-Crestline road, a state highway department job which is estimated to cost $42,0[illegible].

Missionary Gives Talk.

BUCYRUS, June 1[illegible].—Rev. Clarence A. Neff of Canada, [illegible] Mexico, who is serving as a missionary under the Congregational [illegible] foreign mission board, delivered the morning address at First [illegible] church Sunday. Rev. Neff is visiting his sister and [illegible] Mrs. Marion Neff and J. D. [illegible]

Gets Medical Diploma.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., June 13.—With her children now past the age where they require constant care, Mrs. Vivian Millar Amidon, wife of a physician, has realized her lifelong ambition to be a physician herself. She was one of two women graduated recently from the University of Cincinnati medical school. Her husband is Dr. Charles S. Amidon. They have three children, seven, nine and 11 years of age.

Illinois is one of the most level states in the union.

BUCYRUS WOMAN IS BURIED TODAY

BUCYRUS, June 13.—Funeral services were held today at St. John's Reformed church for Mrs. Charles S. Ackerman, 71, lifelong Crawford county resident, who died Friday night at her home on West Liberty street. Rev. A. [illegible] Achtermann officiated and burial was in Union cemetery near [illegible] Springs.

Mrs. Ackerman, who before her marriage was Lydia Ann [illegible], was born Nov. 8, 1860 in Crawford county, the daughter of Philip and Henrie[tta] Stocker Keller. She was married in October 1895 to Charles S. Ackerman, who survives with one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Hazen of Bucyrus, and two sisters, Mrs. Sabina Teel of Columbus and Mrs. Ellen S. Keller of Bucyrus.

SCHWENCK TO SEEK APPEALS JUDGESHIP

Second Bucyrus Man Files Candidacy for District Position.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 13.—Two Bucyrus men will seek the election as judge of the court of appeals in the third district, it was learned here today with the announcement of Attorney William J. Schwenck of his candidacy to fill a vacancy on the ballot caused by the death of Judge Charles [illegible]. Justice Common Pleas Judge C. L. Ahl also has announced his candidacy for the nomination.

Schwenck is a candidate for prosecuting attorney here on the Democratic ticket, having defeated Frank Wilkinson of Crestline in the primary.

FLASHES OF LIFE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—These are tough times for kidnapers. Nicholas Rutigliano had a hand in the kidnaping of Edward Rosenthal, broker, who was held prisoner 15 days for $50,000 ransom. Now the supreme court's appellate division has confirmed Rutigliano's 50-year sentence.

CHICAGO—Mrs. Eleanor Langlois got a divorce after she told a judge her husband was "cruel in trying to cure her of back-seat driving. When I made a few little suggestions she said "he would drive 70 miles an hour through side streets, then turn around and laugh loud and horribly."

SHELTON, Wash.—Clyde Wells, school janitor, is two degrees up on H. Enzo Loop, school superintendent. He has sheepskins in chemistry and civil engineering, while Loop has only a high school diploma plus much home study. "I stick to my brooms because I like the work and exercise," said Wells.

HUNSTANTON, England—Miss Enid Hill is competing for the police force and she hopes to over reach her rivals—in fact she claims the longest reach of any woman in the world. She stands six feet five inches and with her arms outstretched can nearly span her height.

Equipped with short wings, a Italian boat driven by an outboard motor has made a speed in excess of 41 miles an hour.

[illegible] Start Week [illegible] Traders Lose [illegible]

[illegible] the new week [illegible] uptu n [illegible] with [illegible] Auburn and [illegible] actions [illegible] developed [illegible]

quest for further economies and the bonus and relief problems still to be dealt with. Wall Street was less optimistic over an adjournment of congress this week. There was also a tendency to await developments at Chicago and Lausanne.

Auburn dropped 8 points at the start, rebounded about 12, then fell back to the vicinity of Saturday's close. Brooklyn Manhattan Transit common and preferred rose about 3 and 5 points, then gave up part of their gains. An extreme gain of 2¾ in American Tobacco B was sharply reduced and several other advances of a point or so were more than lost. In early afternoon net declines of 1 to 2 points appeared in such issues as U S Steel, Bethlehem, National Biscuit, Coca Cola, Wrigley, Macy, Borden, International Shoe and Western Union, the last two registering new lows.

MARION RESIDENTS AT LIMA MEETING

A number of representatives of Cooper Post No 117 G A R and its auxiliaries are in Lima this week in attendance at the department encampment which opened yesterday. Approximately 200 veterans of the Civil war were expected to attend the convention.

The visitors will be welcomed officially in a public meeting tonight in Memorial hall. Ayers B Adams of Cincinnati, department commander will preside. The organization will be welcomed in an address by City Manager Fred C Becker and officials of the federated groups will give short talks.

JULY WHEAT IS UNDER 50

Lack of Buying Demand Sends Prices Downward, Kansas Harvest Starts

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 13 — Wheat prices hovered today around the season's bottom with most figures in July contracts dropping to below 50 cents a bushel.

Dearth of buying demand rather than aggressive selling appeared to be chiefly responsible. Widening of the price spread between Chicago and Kansas City had a bearish influence here and so likewise did evidence of persistent lack of export business in wheat from the United States.

TURNSTILES CLICK AS COLUMBUS WINS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 13—A winning club at Columbus is getting the kind of results most satisfying to the management—results in the form of activity at the turnstiles.

Since the Red birds started their ascent toward the top of the America Association crowds in the new stadium have been not only the best in years for Columbus but the best in the league.

Yesterday Columbus crowded in to second place by whipping Kansas City twice 10 to 9 and 4 to 0 while Minneapolis was taking a pair from Indianapolis and 10,454 spectators watched the double header.

The Red Birds bunched hits off Bob Osborne and Lou Fette to win the first game, and in the second Pete Fowler pitched effectively enough to blank the Blues.

Sunday School Worker Ends 23 Years Service

Twenty three years of work among the children of the junior department of the First Presbyterian church Sunday school was brought to a close yesterday morning when Mrs Jonas Conckin, 80 of 314 North State street retired as superintendent.

The occasion also marked the farewell of George Robertson 81 who has been an active member of the church for 47 years especially in the junior department work with Mrs. Conckin. Mrs Conckin has been a member of the church for 55 years. Mr Robertson who has been living on Windsor street expects to leave Marion next week to make his home with his sons Howard Robertson of De... MRS JONAS CONCKLIN

Sees Department Grow

Mrs Conckin has watched over the boys and girls of nine to 12 years of age since the department was organized. At first she was teacher and superintendent combined with 15 boys and girls in the department. Yesterday when she retired each of the 25 teachers in her department presented her a rose. More than 80 boys and girls are enrolled in the department today. J B Bray Sunday school superintendent presented Mrs Conckin with a bouquet of roses from his own garden and the Sunday school as a whole presented her with a chair. Letters were given her by Rev Howard I. O... ... pastor and many of the congregation and resolutions of appreciation were sent by the church session and many of the classes and departments.

The presentation of gifts and letters was a surprise to Mrs Conckin coming as a part of the annual Children's day program. The church was filled for the occasion.

Successor Begins Duties

Mrs Conckin presented her resignation on her eighteenth birthday May 2[?] and suggested that the department might continue with Mrs C F Friel of ...urn court as her successor. Mrs Friel has served as assistant to Mrs Conckin for the last two years.

This suggestion was accepted by the Sunday school and yesterday Mrs Friel took over the superintendent's work. The Sunday school conferred the title of superintendent emeritus upon Mrs Conckin. She began her work in the department shortly after it was organized during the pastorate of Dr G M Rourke.

Mr Robertson gave a farewell talk yesterday morning. For years he was a teacher in the Sunday school and later giving up his class took an active interest in the welfare of the junior department.

Glenn Lofland Suffers Minor Hurts in Accident on Bucyrus Pike

Glenn Lofland of 843 North State street sustained a cut over his left eye and bruises about his body when his car turned over three times four miles north of the city on the Marion Bucyrus pike about 1 a m today. The machine was demolished.

The accident occurred when Lofland ... by the bright lights and glare of a spotlight from an approaching car lost control of the car and ran into a ditch. He was brought home by a passing motorist after he had crawled from the wrecked car. The driver of the other car did not stop. The machine was hauled in by the Scioto Trail garage wrecker.

MARION BID FOR '32 K. P. MEET DROPPED

Withdrawn as Courtesy to Lima, City Gets Backing for Next Year.

Marion's bid for the 1932 state convention of the Knights of Pythias was withdrawn as a matter of courtesy to Lima home of Otha Barr grand chancellor of the order when a local delegation conferred with grand lodge officers of the order in Lima Saturday.

Lima will be the scene of the 1932 meeting in September, it was decided Saturday. Marion was given encouragement as a bidder for the 1933 convention. C A Klunk chairman of the local Chamber of Commerce convention committee said.

It is customary for the annual session to be held in the city where the grand chancellor resides. Mr Klunk said. When Lancaster chosen at the 1931 convention dropped its plans to entertain the 1932 convention. Lima asked for the meeting he said. Lima did not bid for the convention at the 1931 session at which Lancaster was chosen.

THANKS, MR.------*

At a meeting of the American Petroleum Institute at Tulsa, Oklahoma, June 1st to 3rd, one of the leaders of the oil industry made an address from which we quote as follows:

"* * * We have the need for wide margins to sustain our expensive distributing setup but no hope of maintaining such margins in the face of competition tendered by the low cost marketers.

The most insistent and persistent urge' towards narrower margins however, has come from the new type of marketer commonly referred to as the tank car service station operator or trackage station.

* * * His whole merchandising policy is based upon selling at two or three cents below the general service station price * * * His real advantage is that he does not carry the burden of giving a wide margin to dealers.

It strikes me that this type of marketer is the spearhead of economic force coercing a narrowing of margins. Such type of marketer must be met by price reductions and consequent narrowing of total margin. I believe however, that any careful analysis* * *will show conclusively that his operations will succeed against the present conventional methods of marketing and that he by no means presents anything like a mere temporary problem.

About a year ago this type of competition was recognized with the so called third grade of gasoline. The results have not been very effective * * * He seems to have no difficulty in procuring non ethyl gasoline of anti knock quality, * * * and seems to be disparaging with success the quality of the so called third grade of gasoline.

I happen to know one of these cut-price marketers who operates in an area where the third grade gasoline has been sold for about a year. He showed me his figures recently and since the inception of the third grade his gasoline sales through the same outlet have increased about 25%.

The trackage station in effect has been passing on to the public the dealer's margin, and the industry generally cannot meet his prices and maintain the present dealer margins without bringing the price realized from dealer business down to the tank car price."

From One of Our Ads in June 1927

"Ours is a new method of merchandising gasoline. We sell direct from tank cars to consumers eliminating the distributor's profit and avoiding the useless expense of operating and maintaining costly and elaborate stations such as dot the landscape everywhere as evidence of excessive profits that have been taken.

The old system is costly, top heavy and a constant source of unnecessary expense to motorists."

From "Bootlegger" To "Marketer"

When the Low Price Filling Station introduced this new form of merchandising at Piqua, Ohio in July, 1924, we were generally referred to as "bootleggers."

It is certainly very gratifying to have this prominent oil man refer to us now as a "marketer" and give us full credit for introducing a new method of merchandising which will save the motorists millions of dollars.
Thanks Mr ———

TED POISTER KILLED IN FALL

Galion Radio Artist Drops Nine Stories from New York Apartment

Special to The Star

GALION, O., June 13—Theodore Poister, 27, of Galion, radio artist, was killed Sunday morning in a fall from his ninth-story apartment window in New York City.

The body will be returned to Galion for funeral services. Complete arrangements have not been made. Mrs. J. Newell of Marion is a sister.

Poister, press dispatches revealed, was entertaining a group of broadcasting studio friends and during a game of charades he in some manner fell from a window.

The Galion musician was a pianist in F. A. Rolfe's orchestra. He was formerly staff organist at WTAM in Cleveland and a member of the piano team with Bob Brewer.

Poister studied music in Paris, the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, the Cleveland Institute of Music and at Allegheny college in Meadville, Pa.

He was born in Galion Nov. 24, 1904. His father, Theodore H. Poister, lives at 428 Harding Way W. Besides his father and Mrs. Newell of Marion, the following brothers and sisters survive: Arthur of Redlands, Calif.; Mrs. George Zinn of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. H. H. Shaw of Charleston, W. Va.; R. F. Poister and Mrs. Harry Kinery of Lakewood and Mrs. Val Turner of Barberton.

Eye and ear signals are combined in a new radio operated device to guide airplane pilots.

planks relating to the vital economic issues was on his way out of the New York conference as this resolution went through without discussion.

Today James R. Garfield, the choice of the administration to head the platform making committee, was busy in a far away room preparing for the siege that is to come.

With the Mills economic declarations framed in Washington, the resolutions committee has apparently only one real problem ahead—prohibition.

State Control Proposed

From down in Virginia came a proposal today from Henry W. Anderson, delegate and member of the Wickersham commission, for submission to the states of a substitute for the Eighteenth amendment providing for state control under federal regulation of the liquor traffic.

On convention eve there was little doubt of the attitude and desires of the administration. But growing uncertainty and uneasiness over the liquor issues kept the question "What will happen?" uppermost in the minds alike of seasoned veterans and novices attending their first convention.

CREWS UNINJURED IN RAIL MISHAP

Erie Trains Damaged in Crash Near Ashland, Two Cars Burn.

Marion crews on two freight trains that collided southwest of Ashland yesterday morning escaped injury. Wrecking crews from Marion and Kenton had cleared the wreckage by 6 p. m. yesterday.

Traffic was resumed last night. An estimate of the damage done when one string of cars crashed into the rear of another could not be made today, Erie officials here said.

One rear car and a caboose were damaged by fire that threatened a carload of small wooden highly inflammable blocks used in manufacturing household matches. Mansfield and Ashland fire departments were called. Water was drawn from boilers on the two locomotives to fight the blaze. A car load of chicken feed was destroyed.

OHIO VILLAGE BANK ROBBED BY BANDITS

By The Associated Press

SEVILLE, O., June 13.—Two men, members of what appeared to be a bandit gang, held up the Seville State bank today at 9:30 a. m. and escaped with cash estimated at $2,500.

The robbers, first asking change for a $5 bill, thrust pistols in the face of T. J. Sailors, cashier, as he opened the cash drawer in the teller's cage.

Sailors, with H. A. Stebbins, president, was tied in a chair at the rear of the banking room. There were no customers present.

The men fled in an automobile stolen at Shreve a month ago, outdistancing Sheriff Lyman Duffington and a deputy who were summoned from Medina, nine miles north. Trace of the car was lost north of Massillon.

MORROW SUICIDE MAID AND SISTER

FESS DENIES OHIO IN DRY ISSUE PACT

Declares Though Delegation Will Not Be Bound by Leaders' Program

Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall of the Ohio supreme court and the Republican Glee club of Columbus.

The Buckeye delegates are split on the wet and dry issue, some favoring repeal, some resubmission and others the present dry laws. At least one Ohioan was out in the open on this issue. Ernest H. Cherrington, directing head of the national prohibition board of strategy, was one of the few who spoke his mind freely.

Cherrington, who arrived Sunday night, let it be known the dry forces would accept nothing except indorsement of the Eighteenth amendment and its enforcing act.

He served notice the drys were ready to fight and would fight to the last ditch against any plank for resubmission or any expression on repeal.

The Ohio forces were more than pleased with the manner in which James R. Garfield of Cleveland, President Hoover's choice for chairman of the platform committee, faced his first public quizzing at the hands of newspapermen.

Speaking with machine-gun rapidity and answering each question without hesitation, the son of the martyred president made quite an impression and soon after his appearance there were whispers that he would make an ideal Republican national chairman to succeed his fellow Ohioan, Senator Simeon D. Fess.

Rumors that Vice President Curtis might meet opposition for renomination circulated about the convention city found no response in the Ohio delegation.

Leaders said there had been no discussion of vice presidential possibilities and that the Buckeye delegation would accept President Hoover's choice in this respect.

Despite the diverse opinions among the Ohioans on the prohibition question, those in close touch with them were unanimous in the belief the Buckeye delegates will unite eventually in support of whatever prohibition suggestion comes from the White House or, lacking such advice, will follow the dictates of their four big leaders.

Brown Chief Leader

The big four leaders are Walter Brown of Toledo, postmaster general and chief of the Hoover forces; Senator Simeon D. Fess of Yellow Springs, chairman of the national committee; Ed. D. Schorr, state chairman, and Maurice Maschke of Cleveland.

Unless requested otherwise from the White House, it was said these four will favor some form of resubmission of the prohibition issue. The report that Fess would consent to this stand caused surprise in some quarters, but those who know him well believe he is ready and willing to abide by the majority.

As for the other three leaders, it has been known that Maschke is wet; that Schorr personally favors repeal but wants the platform to declare for resubmission to state conventions, and that Brown favors a plank suitable to all forces. If possible the Ohio delegation will hold its first caucus tonight. Fess probably will be named chairman and E. W. Edwards of Cincinnati was the likely choice for vice chairman.

Schorr is the expected selection for secretary. Mrs. Wilma Sinclair LeVan of Steubenville to be the Ohio member of the permanent organization committee, State Senator Robert Taft of Cincinnati member of the credentials committee and Mrs. Gertrude Hanna of Cleveland member of the rules committee.

Ohio will be represented in the national committee probably by Walter Brown, succeeding Maschke, and Mrs. Catherine Kennedy Brown of Dayton, succeeding Mrs. LeVan.

CLAIM CONFESSION IN KIDNAPING CASE

By International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 13—Irvin Depew is on his way back to Kansas City today in the custody of authorities who said he had admitted participating in the kidnaping last December of Mrs. Nell Q. Donnelly, wealthy Missouri dress manufacturer.

He was brought back from South Africa. The automobile carrying him westward is expected to reach Kansas City Thursday.

Depew, whose real name is said to be Martin Deputy, fled from Kansas City six months ago after Mrs. Donnelly had been released by the gang of eight that had held her captive for two days and demanded $75,000 ransom.

"I'll probably get the noose," he was quoted as saying, "but I'm not afraid to die."

VETS WIN 1ST MOVE IN BONUS BATTLE

House Votes To Consider Measure as Ex-Service Men Crowd Gallery.

of the uphill fight waged by them against tactics of the leaders who had done everything possible to head off the issue.

While house passage was deemed inevitable, the administration was confident the senate would drop the bill. If not, a Presidential veto is certain and this is not expected to be overbidden by the necessary two-thirds of both houses.

Bonus advocates gained a powerful ally today in an announcement by Chairman Byrns of the house appropriations committee that he will support the full payment bill.

Only a few hours before the house vote Byrns said he would vote for the $2,000,000,000 new money outlay.

Asked whether a member should vote to pay the veterans now, Byrns replied affirmatively.

"I think you would especially if you were assured that it would actually save the government $112,000,000 every year between now and 1945 and at the same time be a forward step toward the restoration of prosperity among all classes of our citizenship."

The Tennessean said he did not subscribe to the theory of those who oppose payment of these certificates.

Some Ready To Leave

As new thousands poured today into the capital to add their voices to the demand for bonus payment, the police sought recruits for a departing force that appeared to be forming.

All were hopeful, but the spirit of a few became as dampened as their tattered clothing in the rain which made their encampments soggy mudholes.

So despondent was one group of 17 that they sent an emissary to appeal to Pelham D. Glassford, police superintendent, to take them by truck toward their homes. In dry weather last week the veterans scorned transportation offered by police.

The veterans camped in scattered billets around the city are facing another food shortage. Glassford said that the nearly 20,000 here would consume in about three days all the feed that can be bought from funds in the police-administered treasury.

OHIO RED MEN HERE FOR ANNUAL MEETING

State Lodge and Auxiliary To Hold Three-Day Meeting in City

have not yet taken the degree were expected to receive it today.

Registration headquarters are located in the Hotel Harding lobby.

After preliminary meetings and activities during the day, the convention will officially get under way tonight at 7:30 with a public reception in honor of the visitors in The Star auditorium.

This reception will be featured by addresses by Herbert F. Stetser, great chief of records of the United States for the order, and Mrs. Mattie L. Betterfield of Columbus, past great Pocahontas. Memorial services to the late Mrs. Hattie Whiteside of Salem, past great Pocahontas, and the late Bert Harper, great junior sagamore, will be a part of this program.

Quartet To Sing

The program will be opened with music followed by invocation by James H. Irwin of Martins Ferry, great prophet. The audience will sing America and repeat the pledge of allegiance to the flag. A quartet of Minnetonka council No. 24, Degree of Pocahontas, composed of Mrs. Minnie Van Asbeck, Mrs. Laura Paddock, Mrs. Rose Seiter and Mrs. Mary Fitch, will sing.

Addresses of welcome will be given by Mayor W. C. Phillians, Mrs. Cora Paddock, Pocahontas of the local council, and Martin Miller in behalf of the local Red Men council. Responses will be given by A. J. Denning of Sekitan, great sachem; Mrs. Helen A. Huber of Cleveland, great Pocahontas, and J. Guy O'Donnell of Covington, Ky., past great sachem.

The Forest City council team of Cleveland will present a fancy drill and Fred Leslie of Toledo and Carl Koenig of Marion will present a tribute to the flag. A social hour and dancing will follow with the Red Men's orchestra furnishing music.

Meetings Start Tuesday

Both the Red Men and Degree of Pocahontas will hold all-day sessions Tuesday. The Degree of Pocahontas meetings will be held in The Star auditorium while Red Men sessions are under way in the Red Men hall. These sessions will not be open to the public.

Both organizations will participate in a parade Tuesday night at 7. Great officers of Pocahontas will be installed Tuesday night at 9 after ritualistic work in The Star auditorium. The Red Men have arranged a social hour in their hall for Tuesday night.

The Red Men will install officers, name a 1933 convention city and complete convention business Wednesday. The convention is scheduled to end Wednesday afternoon.

WET, DRY PROPOSALS DELUGE G. O. P. HEADS

New York, New Jersey Delegations Demand Outright Repeal Plank.

after many hours of conference the high commanders of the party continued their efforts at a compromise while indignant drys and insistent wets hammered at their doors.

Plank Revised

A much revised version of the plank brought from Washington after long consultation with President Hoover remained the testing block of their labors.

It declared for resubmission of the question to the people but recommends neither repeal, retention nor modification.

Organized drys in a continuous succession of rallies yesterday and today denounced the proposal as insipid and insidious.

Some spoke bitterly of betrayal at the hands of a President they trusted. Dr. F. Scott McBride declared Mr. Hoover never could hope to be reelected on such a platform.

The wets were quite as critical and they gave tangible evidence of an impressive strength among the delegates. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler denounced the Washington creation as hypocritical and childish.

If the decision were to be made on noise and flourish alone the wets probably would have it. Yesterday they produced a monster demonstration over Lake Michigan ... of ... Old Man Prohibition into the deep from a high flying airplane and tonight they will continue with a parade through downtown Chicago.

Few would predict how it all will come out today as the last of the delegations trekked into town for tomorrow's opening convention session in the mammoth flag-dressed stadium.

Lively Debate Expected

James R. Garfield of Ohio, the platform committee chairman, would only say he hoped for the best. Most of his colleagues expected a decision only after a rousing debate on the convention floor.

It will be Wednesday before any sort of plank comes out of the committee. Tomorrow's opening session will be short, devoted to first formalities and to the keynote of Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa.

Wednesday is platform day and Thursday is to see the nominations completed if all goes smoothly and final adjournment.

Most of the threat seemed today to have been taken out of the anti-Curtis movement, which had mustered so strong an undercurrent 48 hours earlier. Word went around that President Hoover so much desired Mr. Curtis remaining tion that he was prepared to make an issue of it if necessary.

A boom for Secretary Ogden Mills of the treasury was nipped when Mr. Hoover declared for Curtis.

Of course no vice presidential nomination ever is quite certain until it has taken place, but the guess of the best informed today was that the old Hoover and Curtis team of four years ago will still be up front in 1932.

POLICE HANDLING OF KIDNAP CASE SCORED

New Jersey State Senator Sees Legislative Probe as Virtually Certain.

By The Associated Press

TRENTON, N. J., June 13.—State Senator Emerson L. Richards, Republican leader, today asserted an investigation of the entire police handling of the Lindbergh kidnaping case was virtually a certainty.

"The Lindbergh case," the senator declared, "has been slaughtered to make a Democratic holiday."

Commenting on the suicide of Violet Sharpe, a waitress in the Englewood home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, grandmother of the murdered baby, after police questioning, the senator said five major blunders had been made by the state police and the detectives.

The blunders he listed were the detention of Red Johnson, Betty Gow's sweetheart; the futile payment of $50,000 ransom money by Dr. John F. Condon, aged Bronx intermediary; John H. Curtis' hoax of Col. Lindbergh and the police; the finding of the baby's body five miles from the Lindbergh estate at Hopewell, and finally the suicide of the waitress.

Richards said he planned no immediate move to request the governor to call a special session of the legislature. A police investigation, he said, would probably be instigated by the Republican senate.

William Ring Escapes Injury in Accident Sought To Avoid Sheep

Skidding on the road as he applied the brakes to prevent crashing into a drove of sheep, an automobile driven by William Ring, president of the Marion Foundry Co., went into a ditch on the Hylle road near Delaware yesterday morning. A wheel of the car was broken and the car badly damaged. Ring escaped injury.

When the car was finally brought to a stop it was in a small creek bed with the front end under a bridge. It was necessary for the farmer ... to remove a ... fences before the car could be extracted from its position.

Ring said he had just topped a small hill when he saw a drove of sheep being driven across the road. As he applied the brakes in an effort to stop, the rear end of the car swung around and the machine ... dropping into the creek bed.

Ohio Druids Meet Here for Annual Convention

Marion Man Is Named Alternate to National Meeting Dayton Selected for Next Session of Grand Lodge. State Officers Present.

Forty persons attended the eighty second annual state convention of the United Ancient Order of Druids in the Druids hall here yesterday.

The convention consisted of two business meetings one in the morning and another in the afternoon and a luncheon at Jenner's restaurant. The business sessions were closed to the public and matters before the delegates were largely organization affairs.

Delegate Elected

Joseph Weiber of Newark was elected delegate from Ohio to the national Druids convention in New Orleans next September. August Held of Columbus was named alternate and H L Wade of Marion was named alternate for two years to fill an unexpired term. Weibe will be one of two national delegates from this state for four years.

The Druids park at Dayton was chosen for the 1933 state convention. Cedar Point on Lake Erie made an unsuccessful bid for the meeting.

Delegates present represented the five Druids lodges in the state including two at Dayton and one each in Newark, Columbus and Marion.

The morning business session included reports of state officers and the referring of these reports and other business to the proper committees. Consideration of new business and a discussion of the affairs of the order occupied the delegates during the afternoon business session.

State Officers Here

All state officers were present. They are H L Wade of Marion grand arch, John Weiber of Newark deputy grand arch, John Braun of Dayton grand secretary, Herman Stier of Dayton grand treasurer, Ludwig Hofman of Dayton grand marshal, August Held of Columbus grand herald, Joseph Weiber of Newark past noble grand arch, George Dult grand outer guard.

John Cressap is head of Marion Grove No. ?? which was host to the convention. Philip Ebert, Otto Hittenrauch, James M Cusic, George Dult and Henry Drollinger were members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

BUCYRUS June 13—Two hundred delegates are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Columbus group Woman's Foreign Missionary societies of the Central German M E conference Tuesday and Wednesday June 14 and 15 at the Brokensword and Lincoln Way Methodist churches.

The convention will open Tuesday evening with a session at the Brokensword church with the women of that congregation furnishing the program. Mrs C A Albrecht of Columbus group president will preside. The program will include an address by Rev E G Roessner pastor of the joint charges, a reading by Mrs C C Margraff and a playlet by the standard Bearers.

Mrs. Joseph Durr of Bucyrus will extend a welcome at the Wednesday morning session and Mrs Gilbert Lowmiller of Columbus formerly of Bucyrus will give the response.

Holy communion will be conducted Wednesday afternoon by Rev Roessner and Miss Glora Wysner North African missionary will deliver the address.

Rev John Mayer of Columbus will conduct the evening devotions and Mrs G C Peale of Columbus will be the speaker.

FLIER TOO TIRED TO RELATE STORY

Hungry Rests Aboard Ship After Drifting Week at Sea.

By The Associated Press

S S CIRCLE SHELL June 13 Stanislaus Felix Hausner New Jersey movie operator whose attempt at a trans Atlantic flight to his native Poland ended in the sea, was too exhausted today to tell the story.

He was resting aboard this ship and under treatment but probably to be completely restored to health before he arrives at New Orleans, which probably will be in two weeks.

It was decided last night to abandon Hausner's red monoplane in which he drifted for a week after falling a few hundred miles short of the European coast.

The plane was left drifting in approximately 42 41 18 north latitude and 20 04 longitude west. Darkness which fell shortly after Hausner was rescued made it impossible to pick up the plane. As it faded from view it was drifting south east at a speed of about one knot an hour.

Hausner asked any vessel whose position made it convenient to salvage the plane. The position in which it was left is about 500 miles off Portugal.

SIX ANSWER CALL AT TENT SERVICES

Musicians To Come Here To Take Part in Revival Campaign

Six persons have responded to the altar call made by Dwight H Ferguson lay evangelist during last week's tent services at the rear of the J C Penney Co store at 18? West Center street. This week Miss Cander of Cardington marimbaphonist and Miss Donna Bell Ruth of Akron pianist will join Mr Ferguson to furnish instrumental music for the services. Both young women have been doing revival campaign work.

Additional seats have been added to the 350 already set in the tent to accommodate the increased attendances. Wednesday night the Silvertone quartet, a group of Marion women will sing.

Mr Ferguson preached yesterday on Dead Branches choosing his text from John 15 5 without me ye can do nothing.

Services will be held each night this week at 7 30 except Saturday and Sunday.

BETTMAN GIVEN O K IN EXPLOSION SUIT

Attorney General Reports Gas Caused Blast, Action Against Company Likely.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O June 13—The explosion in the new Ohio state office building here last April 14 in which 10 men were killed and 60 injured resulted from leaking gas from a main of the Columbus Gas & Fuel Co. Attorney General Gilbert Bettman reported today to the state office building commission.

At the same time Bettman asked authority of the commission to institute suit against the gas company for damages to the building and was immediately granted the authority by the commission. Damages were fixed at first around $750 000.

Commenting on the financing of the repairs to the building already started the attorney general said the $750 000 in notes of indebtedness authorized by a recent special session of the general assembly will be sold from time to time. Further details of the sales will be announced later he added.

TO SELECT NAMES

Names for both the junior and senior divisions of a 4 H club in charge of Mrs Wilda Gordieke will be selected at a meeting at the Pleasant school building Wednesday. It was decided at a meeting of the club Thursday. Miss Marian Herr is in charge of the recreational activities of the club.

ROADHOUSE PATRONS HELD UP BY GUNMEN

Pittsburgh Robbery Victims Lined Along Wall by Masked Gang

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH June 13—Patrons of the Villa Royale one of Pittsburgh's largest roadhouses were lined up against a wall and robbed by several masked gunmen early today.

Leo Pope proprietor of the place reported to police that at least five youthful masked men overpowered the attendant of the parking lot, confiscated keys to all automobiles and then herded employes and patrons into a corner and robbed them of money and jewelry. The men reported they lost more than $1 000 while several hundred dollars worth of jewelry was taken from the women. One woman who fought the men was slapped. The safe was looted of more than $1 000.

The gunmen gave warning that any one who left the building within five minutes after they left would be shot and then fled in two automobiles. Efforts to trail them failed.

A short time before six masked men held up employes at the Ingram barn of the Pittsburgh Railway company and obtained more than $1 000.

BURGLAR BLAMED IN WOUNDING OF WOMAN

Cleveland Victim Probably Fatally Hurt, Husband Beaten Senseless

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND O June 13—Apparently the victims of a burglar Mrs Vera Steer 40 was found wounded probably fatally early today beside the unconscious form of her husband Dr J O Steer in the bedroom of their Cleveland home.

Mrs Steer was shot in the head. Her husband suffered a deep scalp wound from a blow.

In an incoherent account to police while they took him to St Luke's hospital Dr Steer said he was struck down by a burglar when he arose from his bed to grapple with him.

The blow knocked the doctor senseless and when he came to he was lying on the floor. Mrs Steer unconscious from the wound in her head was lying on a bed.

Mumbling so badly he could hardly be understood Dr Steer telephoned for help. The police found a revolver apparently the same weapon used by the robber in the room. The contents of Mrs Steer's purse were strewn about and several drawers had been ransacked.

Although neighbors heard a shot fired the two children of Dr and Mrs Steer were asleep in another part of the house when the police arrived. An open rear window showed how the assailant escaped.

Hemorrhoids Go Quick

All Pile Misery Ended Without Cutting or Salves

Itching, bleeding, protruding piles go quickly and don't come back if you remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the lower rectal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby almost dead. Salves and cutting fail because only an internal medicine can actually correct the cause of piles. Dr J S Leonhardt discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1 000 patients with success in 960 cases he named it HEM ROID. Henney & Cooper says one bottle of HEM ROID Tablets must end your Pile misery or money back. Adv.

Trouble and High Blood Pressure Corrected

Mr Arthur W. Davis, 2004 Center Street, Westerville, Ia.

I had such severe elimination trouble that I had to use the utmost care in eating because if I ate a normal meal I would suffer from fermentation and excess gas condition. My blood pressure was higher than normal and I suffered greatly from headaches. At times I had pain in my back and limbs.

I have now used three bottles of ZO-RO-LO and can honestly say that I feel greatly improved. My bowel and stomach disorders have been helped wonderfully, my blood pressure is normal and I am no longer troubled with fermentation or gas or bloating.

I am also giving it to my nephew who was afflicted with [illegible] and has [illegible] been wonderfully relieved of both ailments.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

[illegible] went down in [illegible] crash, the [illegible] adversary's [illegible] to a bone. [illegible] came up in a [illegible] face became [illegible] green eyes pro[illegible] of a gargoyle. [illegible] ineffectually [illegible] arms as the [illegible] down into [illegible] and legs [illegible] rapidly losing [illegible] air was [illegible] lungs. [illegible] became limp. [illegible] to all the [illegible] inhuman face [illegible] Ashwood's [illegible] the silent [illegible] Lucci held [illegible] across the [illegible] speed. His face still bore an expression of disinterested enjoyment. A blue-black streak cut a half circle through the air as the butt of his heavy automatic crashed down on Lucci's head. Without a sigh or groan, the intent, rigid figure slumped down like a bundle of old clothes tossed across the insensible form of his enemy.

Ashwood turned away negligently, whistled a shrill, birdlike note and said:

"Put them to bed."

Four burly guards who had materialized out of nowhere at all picked up the two unconscious men and bore them from the room. Then, for the first time in her life, Nancy Wentworth fainted.

The long porch, under the caress of a faint morning trade wind, was almost endurable.

Ashwood lounged in a deck chair, smoking a cigarette and idly gazing over the turquoise water toward the tiny segment of horizon between two islands to the westward. A copy of "Soldiers of Fortune" lay open but forgotten on his knees. If he noticed the quiet man on the beach who lounged near a machine-gun tripod, he was not interested.

Nancy, very alluring in a simple dress of brown organdy, appeared at the door. Her golden hair seemed to catch all the light in that shady corner of the porch. She saw Ashwood and hesitated. The cripple snapped out of his abstraction, rose with surprising grace and bowed.

"Good morning, Miss Wentworth. There's a delightful breeze. Won't you join me?"

She looked at him in frank curiosity, then took the chair he had indicated.

"I am simply bursting with conceit," he said, easing himself into his chair. "That organdy dress is perfect. The arrogant saleslady tried to tell me I should have chosen green. She was wrong. I knew it then, and I'm positive of it now. You are very beautiful, Miss Wentworth."

"Do you mean to tell me," she demanded, "that you picked out the wardrobe I found in my closet?"

"I admit it with becoming blushes. I tottered from one end of Fifth avenue to another, simply overwhelming the salespeople with my unerring taste."

"What a strange person you are, Mr. Ashwood," she observed meditatively.

There was a half-mocking light in his eyes as he met her somber gaze.

"How penetrating!" He murmured.

She flushed at her own cliche. He did not push his advantage, but lay back in his chair and resumed his indolent watch over sea and sky.

"I can't imagine the same man enjoying shopping for feminine apparel one day and conducting a kidnaping expedition the next." She was determined to draw him out. He interested her, this frail man who looked and spoke like a scholarly sophisticate despite the obvious fact that he was a desperate criminal. "Mr. Lucci tells me that you are one of the greatest figures in gangdom."

"Mr. Lucci is too flattering," he replied drily. "It is true, of course, that we both come under the generic term of gangsters, but there is something direct and forceful about One-shot's work that I could never hope to equal."

Again that mocking gleam flashed from his vivid blue eyes.

"I would be more successful in my chosen career," he continued comfortably, "if I could be more like the worthy One-shot, who is downright, persevering and unimaginative. One of my little foibles is that bootlegging, per se, does not stimulate me."

He offered her a cigarette, then went on in a dry, almost pedantic tone.

"My own efforts, as you may have observed, run to more unusual things. This guest house of mine, for instance; you must admit that it offers a marvellous opportunity for profit, as well as a most intriguing laboratory for the study of human psychology. Where else might one have witnessed the elemental struggle which occurred last evening?

"The effect of the heat and the enforced propinquity, too, offers a study worthy of much consideration. Five carefully selected men and one woman. Out of the lot only you and Mr. Hamilton appear to have withstood the strain without cracking. And I have my doubts about Mr. Hamilton."

Ashwood produced a gold and platinum cigaret case and carefully selected another cigaret.

"But why," demanded Nancy, "did you pick me out as one of your subjects? I'm not at all wealthy. There must be hundreds and hundreds of women who could pay you more than I. If you have already collected $600,000 from our folks, my share would have been $100,000. And if mother has paid you that, it has used up every cent I have in the world and more."

"My dear Miss Wentworth!" Ashwood's sardonic voice was shocked. "You don't think I am making you pay your own board bill, I hope?"

"Who is paying it then?"

"Heart of a Wife"

—BY ADELE GARRISON—

Madge's Father Summons a Fingerprint Expert To Examine the Grocery Basket and the Mysterious Note Pinned to a Parcel.

INTO the white face of Rose, the frightened maid of Mrs. Barnes, there came a faint color. Her eyes brightened and her trembling ceased. My father's words and manner evidently had freed her from her fear that she would be suspected of some share in the kidnaping of Marion and Carolyn.

"It was this way, sir," she began. "We were all ready to make some excuse for keeping here any strange boy coming into the kitchen, but this one with the groceries has been coming here for years and he lives in the town with his folks. We all know him.

"He just came in, put the basket down, passed the time of day as he always does, and then went away. It was when we started to take the things out that we found the note. We didn't touch anything more; just ran to Lucy and asked her to tell Mrs. Barnes about it right away."

The "Chief's" Plans

My father was inspecting the basket carefully, without touching it. I was on fire to know what the note contained, but I knew his reason for his inspection when he took a magnifying glass from his pocket and with its aid went over every inch of exposed surface of the basket and its contents, including the edge of the paper that wrapped a head of lettuce.

"I am afraid you wil have to duplicate this order of groceries," he told Mrs. Barnes. "But first, will you get hold of your grocer and ask him to send that boy of his back here at once. Remember," with a reassuring look at Rose, "we do not suspect him at all, but he may be able to tell us who had a chance to touch this basket before it reached the kitchen.

"Better still, Mrs. Barnes, will you ask your grocer to come back here with the boy, and not to tell anyone in his store where he is going. Can you manage that without anyone in the store overhearing your telephone conversation?"

"Yes," Mrs. Barnes answered promptly. "The telephone is in the office, partitioned off from the rest of the store, and the grocer's daughter invariably answers it. We have a booth here, I'll go into that and talk. Will you need Rose any longer?"

A Job for An Expert

"No. I am sure she has told me all she knows," my father said, smiling at the girl, and Rose visibly reassured, followed her mistress from the room. A soon as she had gone, my father explained his reason for keeping the basket of vegetables.

"As far as I can see, the person who tampered with this basket wore gloves," he said, "At least I can find no trace of finger prints. But I am taking no chances. I'll have my man go to an outside booth pay phone and talk to a finger-print man I know. He'll come down here under any pretext you like. How would radio repair man do?"

"Perfect," Dr. Barnes commented.

"He can be here inside of two hours," my father went on. "He lives in Newark. In the meantime, no one must touch anything in this basket."

"Not even the notes?" I asked, unable longer to keep down my longing to see that message, which I was sure contained some news of the missing girls. "But of course Lillian ought to see it before any of us."

"Have you a room in which the light is nearly as good as out-of-doors?" My father turned to Dr. Barnes.

"In the art department, yes."

"Can you arrange to have it deserted for ten minutes, not longer?"

"Did I understand that you do not wish the Underwoods and the Bristons to be in evidence here at the school, for fear of arousing the suspicions of the pupils?"

"Yes."

Photographing the Note

"Then, my dear," he turned to me, "you will have to see this note before Lillian does. I cannot permit it to leave here, but using the utmost care in touching it, I will photograph it. Where is the nearest photographer that you can trust?"

"Right here," and Dr. Barnes pointed to himself, smiling. "One of my hobbies is photoplay, and I think you will find my darkroom adequate. I will have the artroom cleared right away. Look over this camera. I have used it repeatedly to photograph pages of books. It works beautifully."

"Then I am going to ask you to take the photographs," my father said, and Dr. Barnes walked out of the room with the air of a man having received an accolade. It is an absurd attitude I have noticed in anyone having a pet hobby. I knew that Dr. Barnes subconsciously valued his skill in amateur photography above his masterly guidance of the school under his charge.

It was less than five minutes before we three, Dr. Barnes, my father and I, were in the artroom, my father holding the note gingerly by one corner—he had taken infinite pains in unpinning it from the paper wrapping the lettuce—while Dr. Barnes adjusted his camera.

"THE MOUTHPIECE" PLAYS AT OHIO

Warren William, a comparatively new star in the movie world who bears a striking resemblance to John Barrymore, gives a good demonstration of his ability in "The Mouthpiece" which opened at the Ohio last night to continue through Thursday. Sidney Fox, although slightly diminutive to play opposite a man of William's stature, adds much to the picture by her interpretation of a demure typist as does Aline MacMahon in her role as the hard-boiled efficient secretary.

"Mouthpiece" is the gangland word for attorney. William, as Vincent Day, an assistant district attorney has learned of a jury's weakness for courtroom dramatics and has acquired fame through his knowledge of this weakness. The electrocution of an innocent boy for the murder of a girl, however, causes him to make a pledge he will never procecute another prisoner.

He begins to drink heavily and finally becomes the "mouthpiece" for a gang of crooks. His courtroom dramatics stand him in good stead and he becomes wealthy.

Scorned by Sidney Fox as Celia his stenographer with whom he has fallen in love, he decides to reform and saves her sweetheart, a bank messenger, from going to jail on a charge of stealing bonds, by turning over to the police the real thief, a member of his former gang and in return is shot by the gang as he is on his way to attend the wedding of the two.

An organlogue, a Ripley "Believe It or Not" and a news reel are also included in the program.

OHIO COMMUNITIES MUST ECONOMIZE

By The Associated Press

LISBON, O., June 13—Faced with reduced revenues, four cities, eight villages and 18 townships of Columbiana county must practice rigid economy for the next six months in order to stay within their incomes.

County Treasurer John C. Litty has announced that the December books were closed with $1,172,673.01 of a tax total of $2,772,182.50 paid into the treasury. Included in this is a collection of $304,356.63 in East Liverpool, the county's largest city. The county commissioners voted a 30-day extension of the June 20 payment of taxes.

CHILDREN PRESENT CALEDONIA PROGRAM

CALEDONIA, June 13—A children's day program was presented yesterday at Memorial M. E. church.

The program included drills, songs and recitations. A large audience was present.

Recitations were given by Virginia Williams, Howard Eugene Johnson, Patrica Pommerl, Wave McGinnis, Hugh Dillmen Wall, Marlene Clark, Robert Brocklesby and Thomas Clayton.

Will Get Degree.

Miss Mildred Goerlich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron A. Goerlich of Kenmore avenue will receive a degree of master of arts in history at the annual commencement exercises to be held today at Ohio State university. Miss Goerlich graduated from Harding High school in 1926 and Heidelberg college in 1930. She is a member of Phi Delta Gamma, national graduate sorority at Ohio State university.

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, June 14

THE dominant place of the intriguing and baffling planets, Uranus and Neptune, in this day's affairs, presage the development of the abrupt, unusual and novel, which may have a radical or far-reaching influence on the fortunes and destiny. Important change and adventures, with new plans, environment and contracts, personal as well as business, may be in line. Employment and all pertaining to writings or promotion are under flourishing signs, but all may be subject to postponement or call for building tenacity to push through cherished projects.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of sudden change and unforseen contacts and affiliations growing from strange and new plans or ventures. These may have a radical effect on all relations, shaping new destinies and fortunes, but much depends on determined effort and practical management. But promotion and future success are in order. A child born on this day may be brilliant, original, independent, adventurous and should reach high station and fair fortune in life.

The President Says, "No."

President Hoover sees no merit in the appeal of certain prominent citizens for reestablishment of the wartime council of national defense. The council could do nothing that is not being done. A council could do nothing that is not being done if its revival could be brought about legally he explains.

While it is to be hoped that the President has offended in no way the patriotic sensibilities of the distinguished individuals whom he addresses it has been public judgment from the first that rejection of the appeal would be warranted. A council of national defense may be suited admirably for the job of rallying the nation's strength but that is not the character of the job to be done at the present time.

The need is for nurses and skilled medical attention not general staffs and explicit orders. Fallen and tottering units of business must get their legs under them before they can rush to obey commands. Agencies and legislation to help business have been established and are successful despite an unfortunate accompaniment of frightening events. There is nothing more to be done that is worth doing. It is hard for Americans to realize that there is no express elevator to hoist them out of the valley of depression. It's a walk up and a steep one at that.

Private Citizen Seabury

Samuel Seabury counsel to the joint legislative committee which has been investigating the conduct of New York City's machine government seems to have been hired to run a one-man show. He collects the crowd sells the tickets, sees that every one gets a seat, puts on the performance and then steps down into the audience to applaud.

His letter to Governor Roosevelt explaining in his capacity as a citizen of the state of New York why testimony adduced by him as counsel for the legislative committee warrants the governor's attention with a view to removing Mayor James J Walker from office represents the last step in the one-man show. Why does Judge Seabury have to be the one to exercise his rights as a private citizen?

It is easy enough to understand why it wasn't Governor Roosevelt or some individual prominent in the activities of Tammany hall. They have too much at stake in one way and another to initiate action. Indeed it is a question whether Mayor Walker might not have incriminated himself completely on the stand without causing any positive action against him by those whose personal fortunes are connected with his career at this particular time. Tammany hall is true to those who are true to it. Governor Roosevelt would like very much to be President of the United States.

But where are New York's millions? Where are the citizens who might be expected to demand Mayor Walker's removal after his conduct on the stand revealed plainly that he had many things to hide? Why was it left to Judge Seabury? Why when the press the pulpit and the solid element of the citizenry are crying against their city's grafting government does the man who disclosed some of its practices have to follow up the case and demand action from the governor?

Bad government doesn't develop without roots that extend from one extreme of the citizenry to the other. For every honest reformer there are a thousand who disagree with him. The wonder is not that Judge Seabury has the courage to put on a one-man show in the interest of better government in his city but that it ever occurred to any one to give him permission to do such an embarrassing and unpopular thing.

Resignation on Principle

It isn't the least bit difficult to sing out a rousing cheer for Representative Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida. She will resign her seat Dec 1 because she has lost the nomination. She does not believe in lame duck office holding.

Others who insisted vehemently that they did not believe it was right for a repudiated congressman to return to Washington have been unable or unwilling to translate their belief into action. They have taken their legal rights to heart when the test came and lingered on.

Mrs Owen reelected to the present congress without opposition a fact which easily might have convinced her that defeat in the primary was another of the unfortunate accidents that characterize the system, does not choose to quibble. In defeat she makes as strong a bid for fame as ever she did with the solid backing of her district behind her.

Resignation on principle is an action so rare in the public service that Representative Owen may be said to have qualified herself excellently for future service to the people.

When a gang of convicts in Pottsville Pa was sent to close up a hole in the prison wall one of the outfit used the opening as a means of escape. Gradually the modern criminal is being provided with all conveniences as well as comforts.

[illegible] for the [illegible] of the [illegible] has been charged and a vast deal of unfortunate [illegible] is being done [illegible] the [illegible] forgotten and the [illegible] when the party is in doubt as to the policy [illegible] by an organization [illegible] the [illegible]

It is charged that [illegible] Shouse [illegible] the chairman [illegible] has the [illegible] from his party's leadership [illegible] has been trying to arrange a deal whereby Senator Thomas J Walsh of Montana [illegible] would be made permanent chairman of the Democratic convention. Mr Shouse [illegible] use the [illegible] influence in those sections of the country where [illegible] strength has been accumulated [illegible] West.

The plot [illegible] for Candidate [illegible] to the rescue at this point breathing [illegible] about a fight to the [illegible] and [illegible] upon the brow of the antiprohibition [illegible] crown of raspberries. The brow is thickened by accompanying denials that Senator Walsh [illegible] opposed because he [illegible] to be a dry where upon Jouett Shouse director of Democratic headquarters hints that the whole thing is a scheme to give him the run around. He will fight [illegible] will fight. Raskob will fight. [illegible] will fight everybody will fight.

Perhaps it is a good sign inasmuch as it shows that the party is in deadly earnest. Unfortunately however it doesn't furnish the reassurance needed by voters who are being invited to place Democrats in control of national affairs next November. An emergency crew waiting for a chance to take over a mass of intricate political machinery would show some signs of organization.

Dual Effect of High Taxes.

The new revenue bill represents an abnormality in national taxation. Other taxation measures have contained higher rates and have produced more money than this one is expected to produce—probably much more than it actually will produce. But none of them has been operative at a time when the people were less able to pay.

The bill was passed by congress and signed by President Hoover not because they were convinced of its fairness but because they recognized the necessity of balancing the national budget for the next fiscal year. It may be said therefore that it is a law that has been made with the expectancy of repeal.

It will have a dual effect. The immediate effect will be to reassure the United States and its foreign neighbors that this government's credit is going to remain good if living within its income can be considered as a pledge. The ultimate effect will be to convince Americans that heavy taxation is a national enemy.

The fact that they will be forced to pay the heaviest taxes ever collected during peace times is by no means a sign that they have granted a truce in their campaign against governmental extravagance. For their country's sake they are willing to assume a temporary burden even though they are convinced that it is the by product of unwise policies. Likewise for their country's sake and for their own sakes they are going to insist on casting off the burden as soon as possible and with it some of their regular taxation load.

Democratic government recommends itself by its inability to perpetrate practices unfavorable to the general welfare. People stand as much as they can bear. Then they bestir themselves to correct the conditions which threaten them. The abnormal revenue bill that becomes effective June 21 is destined to be the turning point in national toleration of mounting taxes. It balances the budget. It also has balanced the mind of the taxpayer.

Some theories and philosophy long accepted as the truth often fail to stand the test in real life. The knight of the road who waited three years to take a shot at a man who had offended him by a slighting remark and finally accomplished his purpose near Bucyrus a few days ago failed to provide proof that time heals all wounds.

Comment of the Press

FAITH AND CONFIDENCE

Ambassador Mellon in a recent address before the English-Speaking Union London reminded his hearers that America still is a young country in outlook as well as in years. Naturally he told them many of its faults are the faults of youth but he added we have also the energy and [illegible] the limitless optimism that goes with youth and a belief in our capacity to accomplish that which we set out to do.

The Ambassador recognized America's bewilderment in the face of [illegible] which have overwhelmed the world. But he pointed to the profound truth that we have found that the machine civilization which has been evolved in recent years cannot be made to function with everlasting speed and that new inventions and expansion have necessitated a period of [illegible] until the world adjusts itself to the conditions that have arisen since the war.

But still the Ambassador [illegible] the principles upon which the English-speaking [illegible] was founded have not changed and that being true to these principles we should weather the present storm as we have weathered others before.

And there have been many [illegible] some of them worse than the present one.

True faith and confidence are not shaken by existing clouds of depression. [illegible] the faith and confidence of the English-speaking peoples. Ambassador Mellon does well to [illegible] his healthy optimism—[illegible] is the battle song of America. He might have gone farther and have said that included in the vision of optimism is a greater and freer America—one liberated from the hateful bonds of prejudice and intolerance, those twin devils which have retarded the progress upward of man both materially and spiritually through all the years of history.—Cincinnati Enquirer

STARTING ANEW

[illegible] the turn in the wheel of fortune which destroyed the large and profitable business [illegible] built up a New York woman reasoning on the [illegible] philosophy that [illegible] is as cheap as despair says she will not quit the fight but will go ahead and start another business. This determination is all the more remarkable because the woman is 65 years old and might easily be excused from entering the battle again.

This example of [illegible] should be courage offers to [illegible] who are beginning to waver under the strain of disappointments and reverses.

Look Out for Empyema

When infection takes place causes pus to accumulate within the lining of the chest we have a condition known as empyema. It sometimes follows pneumonia or pleurisy but it may occur independently of these diseases.

Normally the sac in which the lungs are suspended contains a serous fluid but when infection occurs this fluid is replaced by accumulated pus. This may become so abundant and thick as to interfere with the normal expansion of the lungs.

The afflicted person usually a child looks pale and has difficulty in breathing. There is fever which rises and falls and this peculiar temperature curve is spoken of as a septic temperature. It is due to the absorption into the blood stream of poisons from the empyema.

If an X ray picture is taken of the infected lung a shadow is seen when pus is present but if this test is not available the diagnosis of empyema can be confirmed by tapping the chest walls.

This is a much simpler procedure than it sounds and it does not require moving the patient to a hospital. It is performed by inserting a long hollow needle through the skin and tissue into the suspected area. If empyema is present pus will be obtained. It may be necessary to repeat the procedure because the pus is sometimes so thick that it cannot flow readily through the needle.

If pus is found and the patient runs a septic temperature with signs of difficult breathing an operation may be advisable. This should not be delayed because it is important that the pus be removed as soon as possible. Otherwise the pus may break through the lung tissue and reach a large bronchial tube. In that case when the patient coughs he will expectorate foul thick offensive material.

This condition is followed by various complications. Instead of reaching a bronchial tube the pus may spread and break into other organs or tissues and form many abscesses. Then surgical attention is required in order to establish drainage immediately so that pus in the body may be permitted to escape. This is accomplished by an incision so that the pus can be removed with provision for its complete removal by drains. In severe cases it may be necessary to remove a part of one or two ribs.

When the pus is removed the compressed lung is able to expand and there is no longer difficulty in breathing. The color becomes better and the temperature soon returns to normal. Convalescence is rapid in these operated cases. Complications occur only in cases where operation is delayed.

The operation for empyema can be performed in the home but when a hospital is available it is advisable to remove the patient there since the facilities and care received in the hospital aid in a quick and complete recovery.

WHO WAS THIS DOCTOR?

Though John Morgan was closely pursued by many organizations and the credit for the capture of the Confederate raider must be shared by a number of persons an unnamed physician was mainly instrumental in the final entrapment. The story is told by Major George W Rue who was in command of the troops to which Morgan finally surrendered. Major Rue was maneuvering to corner Morgan having [illegible] reports as to his location [illegible] the general direction in which he was moving. He believed he was moving parallel to the Morgan command and much faster so that he hoped to get ahead of him in time but he could not be certain. Morgan changed his direction so often.

Meeting a man on horseback he stopped to question him. The horseman said he was a physician of the neighborhood and was trying to make [illegible] where Morgan was going. [illegible] was familiar with the roads of the district he replied in the affirmative. While they were talking a cloud of dust off to the side led them to conclude that it marked the position of Morgan.

Major Rue [illegible] that the doctor accompany the troops and give them information as to the roads. The doctor accepted. He told the major the road on which the troops were moving intersected the one on which Morgan was traveling a few miles further on and Rue sent the troops into a gallop to reach the intersection before Morgan. But tired as Morgan's horses were he reached the intersection first. There was a small stream at the point [illegible] bed dry for the most part and the doctor told the major that by taking the stream bed he could probably get ahead of Morgan where the stream and the road joined further down.

The troops came out on the road ahead of the raider. Morgan made a bluff by sending a demand to surrender to Rue under a flag of truce but received in return a demand for his surrender with which he immediately complied. Major Rue in [illegible] these facts said he had forgotten the name of the doctor who rendered this service.

The Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

THE GIRL ON THE JOB

Shall I marry a home-girl or a business girl? Which type will make a man happier?" writes Doubtful Thomas.

In the first place my dear boy you will marry the girl who happens to attract you at the psychological moment when you are in the marrying mood whether she be a Hard boiled Hannah or a Soft eyed Sallie—whether she be plain or beautiful brilliant or dull the right one or the wrong. So nothing that I can say will change your Fate. It is written.

But the question you ask is one that every young man seems to be turning over in his mind these days. Whether the girl who makes a living or the girl who makes a home is the happiest choice as a life-mate.

It seems to me that the man who finds a working partner is lucky. Even if the old fashioned home-girl were not already almost as rare as the buffalo the business girl would be the better bet.

Any girl who has learned how hard it is to earn a dollar will have a heart about keeping a man's nose to the grindstone so that she may fritter away his shekels on bridge parties and open mesh stocking.

Any girl who gets up at 7 o'clock six mornings a week will soon discover that she can't stay up until 3 a m at jazz parties and make the grade. And she will not try to drag the man she marries around to night clubs and dances after a hard day's work.

A girl who is busy from 9 to 5 has no time to hang around the shops squandering somebody's money for things she doesn't [illegible] or to hang around country clubs and hotel lobbies looking for diversion—and conquests—and silly flirtations.

Moreover a girl who has spent a few years in a downtown business office has a better understanding of men and a [illegible] sympathy with them. She has few illusions about them and all [illegible] feminine whims and caprices [illegible] which a woman can torment a man have long since smoothed out of her by the steamroller of office discipline.

Work is a tonic that builds character. Strengthens the mind and sweetens the disposition. It takes the jaded world weary look out of a bored young woman's eyes and puts a light of enthusiasm [illegible] them that no blue pencil can [illegible]

Of course a man does not marry a girl just because she is a working girl or because the [illegible] more than he marries her because she's a blond or because she's a brunet. No man [illegible] wife with his brains or [illegible] he selects her with his instinct just because she happens to be there.

But if a man happens [illegible] sort who believes that [illegible] place is in the home he can [illegible] a home-girl just as easily in a business office as in a ballroom or a ballroom. And [illegible] who marries a business [illegible] always find her on [illegible] whether it's in the [illegible] the desk.

Business does not [illegible] a woman for marriage. It makes her [illegible] —and lovable.—Copyright King Features Syndicate

CAPITAL CITY NINE COPS TOURNAMENT

Fraternity Team Beats Marion Gasco, 1 0, in Lincoln Park Diamond Meet Sunday.

The Marion Gasco softball club committed two errors on one play yesterday at Lincoln park and thereby lost a chance to cop the honors in the weekly one-day softball tournament These two errors permitted Greenstein of the Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity of Ohio State university to romp all the way from first to home to score the single run which brought about the downfall of the Gasco by a 1 0 score The fraternity team's victory climaxed three games of brilliant softball The Gasco club turned back the classy Mendel Tailors of Columbus in the first of the three games and the Alpha Epsilon Pi won from the Mansfield Westinghouse in the second game 4 0

The three games were replete with all around brilliant play The Alpha Epsilon Pi brought a pitcher Mike King to Marion whose fast ball is an easy rival for the speedy tosses of the well known Doc Stith King hurled both of the victories for the fraternity team pitching a total of 16 innings and giving up seven hits in the 16 innings His tosses fairly blazed past the batters

Gasco Wins First

The Marion Gasco club and Mendel Tailors launched the tourney with a seven inning clash that was a thriller from start to finish despite loose fielding on the part of the Tailors Seven misplays were chalked up against the Tailors but even with the errors the club looked like one of the best seen on a local diamond in a long time Most of the errors came at times when they meant little in the way of scoring as the 2 1 score will testify

Dale Schwaderer twirled the game for Gasco and turned in his usual sterling performance He was accorded perfect support by his mates He gave up four scattered hits and struck out 12 men

In the second game Mike King hopped on the knoll against the Mansfield Westinghouse and gave the Mansfielders some lessons in the art of pitching King and his battery mate Pete Weiss jumped into great favor of the crowd for their brilliant work on the firing line King breezed the ball past the Westinghouse batters at unheard of speed striking out 11 men and allowing just three hits never more than one in an inning His team mates played errorless ball behind him and displayed a dangerous punch at the plate walloping out seven hits off the offerings of Carver in the five innings he worked Speed Gettles relieved Carver in the sixth and held the Capital city team hitless for two frames but the Westinghouse team could do nothing about regaining the four-run lead gained by Columbus in the early frames

Loses Tough Game

Eddie Mautz hurled the finale for the Gasco and did a good enough job to win most any game Eddie's pitching did not match that of King but his control was almost perfect and he gave the Columbus boys few good balls Seven hits were chalked up off Mautz but not a run would have been scored except for the two outfield errors on Greenstein's single

The Gasco twice placed men on third base but could not drive across the tying run

VANGLER TO BATTLE ARQUETTE TONIGHT

Lively Evening in Store as Welters Meet in Outdoor Arena

With Cork ... Arquette the ... ashing ... and Sammy Vangler the West Virginia hill ... slated to provide the principal attraction plans were under way today to care for the largest crowd tonight which has yet turned out for an outdoor wrestling exhibition in the ... open air arena on ... Arquette and Vangler are meeting in a return battle the previous start having gone to Arquette after a dingdong period of warfare which ended when Vangler left the ring and was never able to return to finish the match

Arquette had something to do with Vangler failure to return inasmuch as he followed him from the ring and knocked him into dreamland by clouting him on the cranium with a chair The Indian figures he can do the same thing tonight except that he plans to eliminate the chair as a weapon and to use only the squared circle for the battle

The first bout on tonight's card will start at 8 30 p m Following a 20 minute prelim there will be a 45 minute semi final between Martin Zikhoff and Joe Montana

Arquette and Vangler will battle over a two hour time limit route with two falls to win

TRACK RECORDS ARE SHATTERED AS STARS SEEK OLYMPIC POSTS

Jack Keller of Ohio State Cracks Mark for 220-Yard Hurdles.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 13 — Fifteen track stars who helped turn in an assortment of records in the N C A A championships will go to the final Olympic trials at Palo Alto Calif July 15-16 at the expense of the American Olympic committee

Those who landed among the first three in each event of last Saturday's record smashing meet are eligible to compete in the final trials but restricted finances will permit only the cream of the lot to go expenses paid

The list has not yet been prepared by A A Stagg Sr but on the basis of performance Saturday the lineup probably will include

Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette who won both dashes in world record time—the century in 9 5-10 seconds equalling the accepted world mark and continuing through 100 meters the Olympic distance in 10 2 10 seconds two-tenths of a second faster than the world record He followed up by winning the 220-yard dash in 20 5 1 10 a tenth of a second better than the world record and on the way passed the 200 meter mark in 20 3-10 three tenths of a second under world record figures

Jack Keller of Ohio State who raced the 220 yard low hurdles in 22 7 10 seconds to chip three tenths of a second from the accepted world record

George Saling of Iowa whose 14 1 10 seconds for the 120 yard high hurdles was three tenths of a second under the approved world mark

Glen Cunningham who ran the fastest outdoor mile ever accomplished in America in beating Henry Brocksmith of Indiana in 4 11 1

SOFTBALL NEAR END OF OPENING ROUND

Important Clashes Billed This Week in City Diamond League Pennant Scrambles.

The end of the first round in the four city softball leagues is rapidly approaching Only two sets of games remain before the season is half completed and one of these sets will be erased in the next few days

With nearly one half of the season completed one would have a reasonable ground to suspect that the teams which are going to run off with the championships would have begun to assert their superiority over the other teams However the farther the leagues go in their efforts to decide who is going to capture the laurels the more complicated the scramble becomes Just now there isn't a league which boasts a team anything like a certainty to grab the pennant One or two have stepped forward temporarily with championship claims but have promptly been set back in line by some underdog

Good Games Billed

This week's schedule is likely do little toward definitely deciding what teams are slated for the crowns but the games booked in that time are likely to uncork some dazzling softball

Starting the week off with a bang will be the Epworth Seniors Christian Seniors conflict at Harding field today These two teams loom as the standout teams of the No 2 church circuit Both have been pointing to this game as THE game and both will shoot the works to win

On Tuesday the Epworth Bishops will step into the spotlight again as they make a desperate effort to hold their No 1 league lead against the First Presbyterians at the Shovel athletic field The Presbyterians will probably go into battle the favorite of everyone—except the Bishops A second major encounter will see John Clark's slipping Methodists ... to halt the onrush ... Ma... a Lincoln ... the ... Pilgrim-Presby ... top spot in the ...

Thursday Games

On Thursday the Eagles will clash with the C D & M a Harding field in the ... battle ... will emerge from ... in a ... lower than ... and in the standings The losing team ... probably ... considerably ... The Augenstein Garfield ... be another game ... to provide a lot of ...

One game Friday carries particular interest That is the tilt between the Erie Traffic club and Kappas at Harding field The Kappas were ousted from the lead ... the K of P and will be ... hard to stay within striking distance of the top The Prest ... game with Sem L W l at Lincoln park may also pack some excitement as neither team looms as a pennant possibility the game is not likely to carry an exceptionally large appeal outside of the team's own circle of support ers

The fourth of a series of one-day tournaments are slated at Lincoln park Sunday with Marion Columbus Lima and Marysville competing

ERRORS GIVE TIFFIN WIN OVER MARION

The Marion Steam Shovel baseball club dropped its second tilt of the season yesterday to Tiffin by a 4 2 score Three costly errors paved the way for the downfall of the Shovel nine Hits were even each team garnering six

SENATORS TROUNCED TWICE BY BROWNIES; CLEVELAND STOPPED

Ruth Smacks Two Homers as Yanks Cop, Cubs Stretch National Lead

By The Associated Press

For the information of American league pitchers the one sure way of stopping the Washington Senators is to put on a St Louis Browns uniform

The Senators can hold their own with the rest of the league but as soon as they are one of Bill Killefer's elbowers take the mound they roll over and play dead So far they've played the Browns seven times and the Browns have won six games

Killefer's outfit won both games of a double header yesterday 6-... and 4-0 and boosted their average above the 500 mark for the first time this season The first game was a disconcerting affair ... with Carl Fischer former Senator in a Brown uniform and Dick Coffman former Brown pitcher for the Senators Fischer had the better of the argument Walter Stewart pitched his second shutout over the Senators in the nightcap allowing only three hits

George Herman Ruth personally conducted the New York Yankees to a 13-5 victory over Cleveland hitting his nineteenth and twentieth homers and a double to drive in six runs The Detroit Tigers did some high powered batting to tumble the Philadelphia Athletics 8-6 despite Jimmy Foxx twenty second homer Pete Jablonowski former Cleveland hurler made his first start for the Boston Red Sox and was the victim of his team mates errors bowing 4 1 to the Chicago White Sox

In the National league the Chicago Cubs stretched their lead to a game and a half by winning a wild 15-inning battle from the Boston Braves 5 3
